Specification

The examiner has not checked the specification to the extent necessary to determine the presence of all possible minor errors (grammatical, typographical and idiomatic). Cooperation of the applicant(s) is requested in correcting any errors of which applicant(s) may become aware of in the specification, in the claims and in any future amendment(s) that applicant(s) may file.

Applicant(s) is also requested to complete the status of any copending applications referred to in the specification by their Attorney Docket Number or Application Serial Number, if any.

The status of the parent application(s) and/or any other application(s) cross-referenced to this application, if any, should be updated in a timely manner.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1, 3, 4, 6, 8, 10-19 and 38 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The claims are indefinite in the recitation of proportions, without the basis of such proportions being indicated. It should be indicated whether the percentages are based on the entire composition and whether they are all weight, volume, etc.

Claim 8 further lacks antecedent basis for the recitation of "the base mixture".

Art Unit: 1755

Claim 11 is not further limiting because the independent claim already recites the chips to be marble.

Claim 38, line 5, "have" should be changed to "having". Claim 38, line 6, "marble" should be inserted before "aggregate" to provide antecedent basis for the marble in line 7.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 1, 3, 4, 6, 8, 10-19 and 38 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over admitted prior art supplied by applicant.

Applicant has indicated on this record that the product "Florundum" is considered to infringe his claimed composition. The submitted PTO-1449 indicates that this prior art has an effective date more than a year before the filing of this application. Accordingly, this commercially available product constitutes a statutory bar to the patentability of the claimed invention.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed December 27, 2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant's arguments indicate that the amended claims containing proportions and requiring a silica fine aggregate would render them patentably distinct from the Metalcrete Florundum product because "the amended elements relate to advantages the invention has in terms of use as a dry shake, and providing a uniquely hard surface and simultaneously decorative surface”.

This position is not convincing to the examiner. The examiner would take the position that the Florundum product would of necessity contain fine aggregate, and since silica, i.e. sand, is about the best known and used filler or aggregate in this field of technology, the examiner can only consider that the Florundum product will also contain silica. Regarding proportions, there is nothing apparently critical with respect to those claimed, and they are on the order of proportions used in the art for many flooring surfaces. Furthermore, since the Florundum has exactly the same intended use as the composition being claimed by applicant, it is clear that these proportions will be result-effective and the Florundum product will likely contain the same amounts being claimed herein, absent some convincing showing of evidence to the contrary. Furthermore, there is nothing on this record at this time to contradict applicant's statement in support of the petition to make special filed November 29, 2004 which stated that “there is an infringing product actually on the market” and “some of the claims are unquestionably infringed”, which would clearly indicate applicant believes this product to anticipate or render obvious the instantly claimed invention.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Art Unit: 1755

Additional prior art is provided with this office action to teach that proportions, size of chips and aggregate and particular type of aggregate are all result-effective variables in this field of technology.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
